DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

Jing'An

In keeping with the restaurant's tagline "resolutely epicurean", Jing'An allows diners to customise their own meal for lunch and dinner, from a selection of individual ingredients on the menu and presented in a simple, honest and unpretentious manner. Using only the very best and freshest produce available on the market, the restaurant's unique modular menu takes a quintessentially Western stance with an influx of Asian favorites.

For breakfast, guests are offered 3 dining options – a nutritious buffet in Jing'An, in-room breakfast presented in a unique and distinctive fashion and "breakfast on-the-go" at Long Bar, which also offers drinks, coffee and tea daily.

Long Bar

The 32 metre Long Bar will offer one of Shanghai's "longest" wine and champagne selections by the glass with sophisticated pre and post dinner cocktails. The bar will eschew a chameleon-like atmosphere as the space transforms in character and mood through the day.

Meetings and Private Dining

Two private dining or meeting rooms with natural light are available for exclusive and intimate personal gatherings up to 16 people. Tailor-made menus and fine wine are available upon request.

SHANGHAI ATTRACTIONS

French Concession

An area once designated for the French traders and businessman in Shanghai. Today, it is one of the hippest places in town endowed with European style buildings, busy shopping streets and a trendy café scene.

XinTianDi

The area is the place to see or be seen in Shanghai's French Concession District, and is known for its unique Shanghai architecture, blending European and Chinese elements. Art galleries, designer boutiques, cafes, restaurants and a vibrant club scene have transformed this into a popular area for both tourist and locals.

Jade Buddha Temple

An active Buddhist monastery founded in 1882 with 2 jade Buddha statues. The larger seated Buddha, encrusted with jewels, is 1.95 metre tall and weighs 3 tonnes. A vegetarian restaurant can also be found on the temple grounds.

People's Square

Site of Shanghai's municipal government building and the cultural centre of Shanghai, featuring the architecturally impressive Shanghai Museum, Shanghai Art Museum, Shanghai Urban Planning Exhibition Hall, Shanghai Grand Theatre and Shanghai Concert Hall.

The Bund

The famous waterfront area along the HuangPu River is regarded as a symbol of Shanghai and home to 52 buildings featuring architectural styles such as Romanesque and Art Deco.

Yu Garden

Considered one of the four finest Chinese gardens, Yu Garden is located in the centre of Shanghai's Old City and is one of the few remaining old tourist sites in Shanghai. A maze of bustling small streets and alleyways selling traditional wares and food surrounds the Suzhou-styled garden and is home to the famous NanXiang steamed pork dumplings.
